

February 8, 2021

Good morning members,

I hope everyone had a wonderful weekend. Were you able to watch the Superbowl last night? I watched the Superbowl and was not too impressed with the game. I have to say I was not too impressed with the halftime show either! I found myself dozing off in the 4th quarter due to the lack of action. The game resulted in Tampa Bay taking home the trophy, with a 31 - 9 win. It was nice to relax, and to have an excuse to eat bad foods like pizza, chicken wings, chips, and candy. Now it's back to healthier foods like carrots, salads, and pastas.

To touch on some more important things, I wanted to let you know that this month is Black History Month. Here is a powerful quote for you: "None who have always been free can understand the terrible fascinating power of the hope of freedom to those who are not free." Please take some time this month to learn about black history, and what it is all about.

With Valentine's day coming up on Sunday, please keep others on your mind. I sent my valentines to the nursing home recently, and am happy to be able to help out. Try making a valentine for someone that you care about, and watch the effect that it has on them. Sometimes people just need a reminder that they are loved. If you are looking for something to do on Sunday, pop in the movie "Be My Valentine, Charlie Brown," or watch it on channel 12. I know Valentine's day will be a little different this year, but nobody says that you can't celebrate at your house.

I also want to inform you that last week PFW sent out a survey to collect input from members as to what topics/issues they want People First to Address this year. We are planning to use your input in laying the foundation for our advocacy work in 2021. We want to hear from YOU! What are important advocacy issues, barriers you are experiencing, difficulties you may be experiencing. By completing this quick survey, you can help chart our course this year. Make your voices be heard! Thank you for reading my letter, and I wish you all a wonderful week.

You can call my cell phone @ 414-852-6462 8:00am - 5:00pm Monday through Thursday. If I am unable to take your call, I will call you back. You can reach the Cope Hotline @ 1(262)-377-2673.

Sincerely,

Cindy Bentley
