

March 7th, 2022

Good Morning Members,

I hope to find you well on this snowy morning. I am doing well today even with my internet and cable being out. I think I handled everything with my morning meetings very well and I am proud of myself. Of course there is some good news with COVID and the numbers are going down and there are a lot less cases than the beginning of the year.

I would still continue to be careful because we know that washing hands and keeping things sterilized helps keep you healthy. I will leave it up to you if you continue to wear a mask, but I know I will still be wearing my mask when I am out in public. I don't care if people will look at me funny because I think it is important and don't want to take the risk. I know the mandates for counties are stopped, but it is your choice because the number of cases can go up again.

It is March Madness now! Hopefully you can watch some of that and enjoy that this month. We also have Saint Patty's day! I think it is good do something fun to celebrate. You could make some cookies, corn beef, or something else. If you feel comfortable you could go to a local parade. I won't be able to make the parade in my area because I have a work meeting which is more important, so I can either record it if it's on TV or watch a different one. Even if you want to go outside and grill out or take a walk. You could even go out to eat to celebrate. Just do something that you enjoy to celebrate.

Don't forget to sign up for the Disability Advocacy meeting! I hope to see a lot of people there in the zoom meeting! Please register right away because the deadline to register is March 8th! The meeting is the 16th and I hope to see you there! Here is the link to the event information:
